DISCOVERING ADAPTOGENS

Jim Coover, Isagenix Co-Founder and Chairman, believed so strongly in the benefits of adaptogens that he played an integral role in bringing adaptogens to the Western world. Coover's passion eventually led him to the former Soviet Union where he met "the father of adaptogens," Dr. Israel Brekhman. Brekhman was working with Soviet soldiers and astronauts, trying to find a way to help enhance their performance through botanicals. Eventually, after the fall of the Iron Curtain, Coover was able to meet with Brekhman in person in order to learn even more about adaptogens. That's why Ionix® Supreme is a core product at Isagenix and an essential tool for ultimate health and wellness

WHAT ARE ADAPTOGENS?

Adaptogens are natural botanicals that help combat stress, focus your mind, and elevate your mood. We aren't saying you'll never feel stressed again, but your body will have the targeted nutrients it needs to help you thrive under times of physical or emotional stress. Think of it like this: They help your body adapt to stress.
